AFTER 40 YEARS, COMRADES UNITED AGAIN, ONE ALIVE AND ONE DEAD

EDITOR'S NOTE: Due to an editing error, part of Mr. Nickell's story was omitted from last week's edition. We apologize for the mistake. The story is reprinted below in its entirety.

By: W. Lynn Nickell

"In 1965, the United States sent troops to prevent the South Vietnamese government from collapsing. Ultimately, however, the United States failed to achieve its goal, and in 1975, Vietnam was reunified under communist control; in 1976 it officially became the Socialist Republic of Vietnam. During the conflict, approximately 3.2 million Vietnamese were killed, in addition to another 1.5 million to 2 million Lao and Cambodians who were drawn into the war. Nearly 58,000 Americans lost their lives."—Microsoft Encarta

"We see them all as they march proudly away under the flaunting flags, keeping time to the grand, wild music or war—and across the prairies—down to the field of glory, to do and to die for the eternal right."

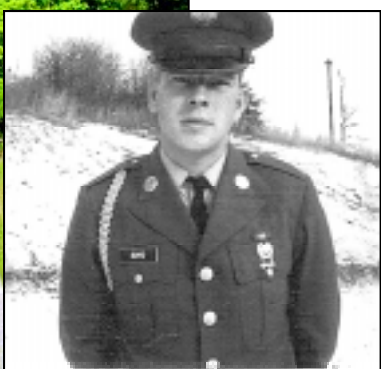

—Robert Ingersoll's
Visions of the Civil War.

Hurley Millard Boyd met Colleen Holliday (the daughter of Arnold and Nora Holliday) in West Liberty. Hurley was playing and singing at the WLKS jamboree in the Morgan County courthouse — both were 20 years old and it was love at first sight. After that first meeting they began dating. Hurley drove over from Dan Ridge to play and singing and Colleen attended the Saturday night jamborees at the courthouse. Hurley and his family had moved to Dan Ridge in Menifee County from Middletown, Ohio, and spent a lot of time in Morgan County. The Boyd and Holliday families became very close.

In September 1967, Colleen and Hurley decided to marry. The minister that was to marry them became ill and they drove to Cannel City and had Tom Richardson, a district magistrate, marry them on September 13, 1967—both 21 years old and ready to start a life together. Only one thing stood in their way and that was an unforeseen military obligation. The Viet Nam war was raging by 1968 and more and more young men were being drafted, even married men. In August, 1968, Hurley was drafted into the Army.

Alvin Bryson, at left, traveled to West Liberty to visit Hurley Boyd's grave. "I did all I could do for him—he was a friend and has always been on my mind."

Hurley Millard Boyd was killed in 1969 near Chu Lai in Viet Nam. He was only 22 years old.

Hurley arrived in Viet Nam on January 12, 1969. His wife was pregnant at the time. The baby, a beautiful baby girl named Melissa, was born never to see her father. (She is married to Robbie Adams and lives in Morehead. They have two children, Robyn, 10 years old, and Chris, 18 years old. Chris is graduating from Rowan County High this year and is a Governor's Scholar.)

On March 26, 1969, Hurley was severely wounded near Chu Lai. He had only been in the Army six months and in Viet Nam less than three months. According to Al Bryson, a medic and close friend of Hurley, he was "walking the point" and stepped on a land mine even though the area was supposed to be "safe," according to the Company C scout.

That close friend of Hurley, Al Bryson, lives in Huntingburg, Indiana. They had met in Viet Nam, both being in Company C, Americal Division. Alvin was the man to know, being a medic. In fact, he was in charge of the medics in that area. Having been in the military and over seas, I know about having a few close friends. Friends that you enjoy talking to about your home town and family. Alvin knew a lot about Hurley but never was sure where he lived. He knew he was from West Liberty, Kentucky, but not a lot more. When he decided to visit Hurley's grave on the 40th year of his death, he located, through the internet, where Morgan County and West Liberty were. This is where I entered the picture. I was given a call from city hall to see if I could help. It didn't take me long to locate Hurley's former wife, Colleen Holliday, and the grave yard where he was buried on April 12, 1969.

At a prearranged meeting with the Brysons at Patti's Place, we finally met. Al's wife, Carol, was with him. We had conversed over the phone for the past few months trying to work out a time for their visit to the Holliday cemetery. Over a cup of coffee, making plans for the trip to the cemetery, Garry Elam happened to enter and joined us. After a nice visit, Garry and I took our visitors for a short tour of West Liberty and then left for the Holliday area. We were to meet Darrell and Doug Holliday at the Holliday cemetery. When we turned on Rt. 1000 from Rt. 460 toward the community of Holliday, I am sure Alvin felt some excitement and reservation, if it is possible to have both at the same time. After all, it had been almost 40 years that he had thought about this trip and now it was happening.

At the cemetery, Alvin reiterated the story of that day in March, 1969. "I was with Company C the day Hurley stepped on a land mine. When I heard the mine explosion, I rushed to his aid. He was still conscious and we talked while I was aiding him. Hurley, realizing his serious condition, asked me to pray for him, which I did. You know, he was the first soldier that I had aided that asked me to pray for him, and I had never done that before, even through I believe in God. Asking for that prayer was the kind of person he was. I did everything I could do for him. His wounds were extensive. In a short time, Hurley was picked up by a medic evac helicopter and was taken to a hospital. I visited him while he was at the hospital and felt somehow he would make it. He was then flown to Japan. On the flight to Japan, he died. He only lived a few days. (He died on April 2nd). I understand a blood clot killed him."

It has been 40 years since Hurley was killed. His wife, Colleen, has had a very difficult time adjusting to what happened in 1969, which is perfectly normal. It seems she has never been able to regain the happiness she had the short time they were together.

That day over 40 years ago has always been on Alvin's mind. He has never been able to forget that day when a land mine destroyed his friend. Hopefully, after 40 years, Alvin will now have some closure as a result of his visit to Hurley's grave, something he had never been able to do until now.

In the cemetery where Hurley Millard lies, the ferns grow between the tombstones row by row that mark his place; and in the sky the birds fly serenading him below.

He is dead. Sometime ago he lived, felt dawn, saw sunset glow, loved and was loved. May his death not be in vain. Take up the torch he hands to you and hold it high.

And when you visit his grave And go home, Tell them of him and say, For your tomorrow he Gave his today.

(The above are paraphrases of John McCrae's "Flanders Field" and an inscription at a British Memorial in Kohima, India, each adapted to fit this story.)

can only be applied to the specific projects for which they are written.)

"I am very excited about this project," Conley said. "Local veterinarians have been keeping many of the stray animals the county rounds up. However, it is their job to treat sick animals — not to house stray pets. This shelter could help solve a huge dilemma for our veterinarians as well as county government."

The newly-renovated building now boasts 19 inside kennels, 14 outside kennels and two quarantine kennels measuring five feet by 11 feet and featuring individual water spigots, glazed walls to protect against acidic dog urine and raised fronts for better drainage in each pen.

Approximately 50 dogs can be housed in the shelter, which also includes a supply room and an office for a yet to be appointed part-time county dog warden, as well as Helping Hands for Animals and Woodsbend Youth Development Center volunteers.

The dog warden and volunteers will operate the facility and care for the dogs in cooperation with local veterinarians, who will serve the shelter in an advisory capacity.

Conley noted that the shelter will only receive stray dogs, as there are no state statutes regarding the care of stray cats.

In addition to receiving housing and care, all animals brought to the shelter will be spayed or neutered for population control, and will be available to the public for adoption.

"There are many strays and unwanted pets that need good homes," Conley said. "Many times people do not have their pets spayed or neutered, and those pets have babies that the owners can't give away. The shelter will give citizens a chance to take in needy pets to help control the animal population."

Helping Hands for Animals will help the shelter foster animals to suitable homes in addition to offering financial assistance to pet owners for spaying and/or neutering.

Helping Hands President Vicki Stacy said spaying and neutering pets is essential to controlling the animal population will help create space for more dogs in the animal shelter.

"Spaying and neutering pets is the only way to control the stray animal population," Stacy said. "Families willing to foster unwanted pets could also save many animals. These are the most important things we can do for animals."

Helping Hands for Animals will host a yard sale 8 a.m. Saturday, June 6, at the former laundromat building next to Bank of the Mountains at Index. All proceeds will support the group's spaying/neutering programs.

(Helping Hands for Animals is a private, non-profit organization that relies on donations to fund its programs.)

For additional information about the animal shelter project or to report a stray dog, contact Judge Executive Tim Conley at 743-3897. To learn more about Helping Hands for Animals and its programs, contact Vicki Stacy at 743-7261.

HISTORICAL SKETCHES by Joe Nickell

GRAVE-LOCATION LEG-
END. On the property of what is believed to be the oldest house in Morgan County — the old Murphy-Rose house on Murphy Fork Road — are now said to lie the graves of an important pioneer couple. They are Revolutionary War soldier John Murphy and his wife, Nancy Ransome.

The large, log house, with a foundation stone inscribed "1833" (see photo) was the subject of a sketch in 1992 (see acknowledgments). In that article, I related how I had brought to the site two experts from the Kentucky Heritage Council. They examined the house and found the early date credible.

I also did a title search on the property. Although the earliest Morgan County deeds had perished in a Civil War fire that destroyed the courthouse, I was able to trace the land back to a deed on Oct. 31, 1856, in which it was described as "the place where the said Wm. Murphy now lives."

That would have been William Murphy Sr. (1792-1875), who was a son of John and Nancy Murphy. John (1733-1836) came to America — according to family legend — from Dublin, Ireland. He was only 14 years old and a stowaway on a ship that landed at Norfolk, Va. He married Nancy Ransome (born ca. 1740-1750 in America) and served as a Revolutionary War soldier under George Rogers Clark. (The Murphys are my fifth-great-grandparents.)

John and Nancy (Ransome) Murphy's graves had long eluded

local researchers, but now another descendant cites an "oral legend" about the location.

Thomas Smith (see acknowledgments), had been told that the unmarked graves were located at the northwest corner of the previous (Rose family) barn that stood on the old Murphy property. That barn was replaced by the present one and, says Smith, one can only hope that the graves were not disturbed in the process.

The good news is that the approximate location of their graves is now indicated, and credibly so, since John died in 1836, three years after the construction of a family log home on the property in 1833. In those early days, in the absence of community graveyards, people were buried on their own land.

(A family cemetery overlooking the historic house is almost certainly of a later date.)

Perhaps, in the future, a historical marker might be installed at the site, acknowledging a pioneer couple, including one of America's early soldiers.

Lower Elkfork

By Alpha Clevenger
Sympathy is extended to those who are bereaved. Get well wishes to the sick and shutins. Dempsey and Joy came on Mother's Day and presented me with a hanging basket of beautiful flowers, geraniums, and marigolds for Mother's Day. Thanks to you children. It made me happy and on Monday Barry came and did some work for me. Thanks to him, too. I love to have them visit me and that makes me happy also. There's nothing as dear to your heart as your children. They are so near and dear and precious to a mother. I dearly love them with all my heart.

Barry came two or three days to mow and weedeat and do some tilling the ground for me to plant some garden. I had planted some garden such as corn and beans, set, and it rained every day and tuned cold and they never came up. Must have been too much cold weather, etc. A few hills came up after the weather got warmer and I went out to see about the garden and saw where the few hills of corn had come up and some varment, crows, or something had taken it up. I told my daughter to tell her son, Jared, to kill a crow or two and we'll hang them up in the garden and you'll never see another crow around anymore. That scares them away. I have seen several old big black crows flyong over my garden. I wish I could shoot them down when they come around, but it's not easy to do. You have to sit and watch for them, too, and so if you can kill one and let them see it haning there, that's best. They'll never return.

Barry came Saturday and did some weeating and I had gone to town. I wish I could have been at home when he came and I tried to hurry and get back before he left, but he was gone when I got back home. Sorry I missed him.

Rev. Vernon Lewis is in revival at his church at Blaze, with Bro. Eugene Haney the evangelist. sorry I never have got to attend. The homecoming in on Sunday. I hope I can go on Sunday.

Today, Sunday, is cold and windy. Wish it would warm up and stay warm and be dry for awhile it's been so wet for so long.

How are you Jewell Lewis? Hope you and your family are well. Call me when you cna.

How are you Sue Kinner? Hope all is well with you and Earl. Dempsey called recently. Good to hear from him and Barry and Joy calls to check on me. Thanks to you children.

If anyone has a full stock Chow or any other kind of good watch dog, call me at this number (606) 743-1357.

Alpha and Barry were in Elliott County Saturday decorating graves and got back home before the weather got so hot, and Barry had to go back home. I had to go to West Liberty to the grocery store and stop at the gas station. Sorry to say the gasoline is going up higher. It does that about every holiday. Hope the prices goes back down real soon.

May 31--Barry came down early this morning and ate breakfast with me. I was glad to have him visit and he got some country water and took out my garbage, etc. and stayed a while and left. Thanks for helping me.

I talked to Joy recently. She said they had been on the sick list with allergies, etc. but is now feeling much better.

Dempsey came down Thursday and brought my medicine. I had been on the sick list and couldn't go and pick it up at the drug store. Thanks to him for his help. I'm thankful for my children and all they do for me. It's good to have someone to help out when you are in need.

Alpha attended the Licking Valley R.E.C.C. meeting on Friday night. A good crowd but it seemed not as many as usual and the temperatures was so cool that a lot of people left. I know I got real chilly and I left before it was over. It's hard to believe that the month of May is gone and the month of June is here already. Monday is the first day of June and its been so wet and so much rain. No one can get on the outside and do very much. I have been setting out some flowers and plants when it wasn't raining. God knows best and we can't control the weather. he controls the whole world and we can't do anything about what happens.

Alpha attended church at Glenn Avenue recently. Good services.

Twenty-Six

By Sherry Bailey

June 1 — By the time you read this week's paper, I hope to be in Texas visiting Hap Conley and his daughter, Vicki Batres.

I want to thank my sister, Lora Brown, for contributing $25 to the upkeep of the Smith Cemetery. We have to get some weed and feed on it so the weeds don't choke the grass out. We got the fence painted last year, which was a MAJOR job. My sweet husband, Bill, painted that whole big fence, inside and out, with a brush (actually it took more than one, because they kept wearing out). Anybody that would like to help us and has loved ones buried there can make contributions to: Sherry Bailey, 6429 Hwy. 772, West Liberty, Ky. 41472.

Lenox

By Estelle Caskey

June 1 – We extend our deepest sympathy to all who have lost loved ones.

Estelle and Louise Caskey enjoyed a visit on Saturday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. Bill Easterling, of Goodlettsville, Tenn. Bill is originally from Lacy Creek.

Mrs. Della Banks and Mrs. Janet Ratliff had business in Lexington one day last week.

Mr. Kedrick Caskey is reportedly feeling much better and has received a good report from his doctor.

I enjoyed talking on Saturday with my lifelong friend and former classmate, Ruth Conover, of Walton, Ky. Ruth reports that she is feeling well.

Mrs. Charles Holbrook is undergoing medical treatment at Morehead.

Mrs. Evelyn (Totsie) Holbrook and Mrs. Sandy Shively were in Lexington one day last week for medical treatment.

On Saturday afternoon, I had a nice telephone conversation with my cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Corbett (Bud) Elam and Mr. Terry Elam.

Household Hints

- Do not use in foil in a toaster

Bill and I visited Harold Goodpaster in the Morehead hospital. His brother, Gerald Goodpaster, was there, too. We enjoyed the visit with both of them. Hope Harold's gall bladder surgery goes well.

If you have anything you want included in the Twenty-Six news, please phone me at 606-725-5200.

to keep it clean, as the tin foil can cause the oven to overheat and result in a fire.

- If coffee or other liquids are spilled on a computer keyboard, immediately turn the keyboard upside down for 24-48 hours to dry. A hair dryer will also help to dry the keyboard.

- To banish tea stains on a china cup, mix a teaspoon of baking soda with two to three drops of lemon juice to make a paste; rub it over the stain; let it sit for one hour; and then wash.

- To safely remove kerosene or gasoline smells from clothing, air it out; wash in cold water; wash again in hot water, two cuts of baking soda, and detergent; wash again; and air dry. Do not dry the clothing in the dryer, as traces of fuel can cause sparks and then result in a fire.

- Stains from ceramic or melmac cups can be removed by first rinsing with hot water; squirt a small amount of detergent mixed with a bit of vinegar on the stain; sprinkle table salt on a sponge and gently rub away the stain.

Memory Hill & Roundabout

As told by Hazel Craft to Tracey Hatton
This is a tribute to Hazel Craft
(her last article for Memory Hill and Round About)

May 26--I've been writing Memory Hill & Round About (which includes our community of Caney) for about 11 years. Before I wrote this piece for the paper, my husband, Wardie Craft, wrote it and before that Astor Barker wrote the Caney news. It has been a pleasure to write about Memory Hill and Round About. It has always been close to my heart. Now I am in the nursing home at West Liberty and due to physical ailments, I am unable to continue to write this article. I will miss this but I feel like the torch has been passed on to Tracey Barker Hatton--my friend and neighbor.

The name of Memory Hill was in reference to all the children we were connected with through the years. "Wardie and I cared for nearly 80 children and worked with children throughout our married lives". We did not have them all in the home at the same time, the most we ever had in our home was 16, and they were all teenagers. What one did not think of the other one did. We were young during this time and had patience with them. Wardie and I were married 60 years before he died. I miss him more and more.

The Memory Hill Foundation originally started as an idea, when we visited Washington, D.C. We loved the museums and Wardie wanted to start one when we got back home. We started out with a little kitchen cabinet with a few little trinkets. We collected discards (things that people didn't want). We bought antiques, they were cheap then, and we could afford them on our meager salaries. Several visitors to Memory Hill have remarked that they have never seen so many antiques in one place.

Wardie and I taught school many years and came in contact with a lot of wonderful people. I remember when I taught first grade at then Wells Hill Elementary School (now West Liberty Elementary). Cotton Allen was building a nursing home--which was Allen's Rest Home now known as West Liberty Nursing and Rehabilitation Center. I am now a resident of West Liberty Nursing Home and Rehabilitation Center.

When I came to be a patient at West Liberty Nursing Home and Rehabilitation Center, I saw what a nice nursing home and Rehab Center this facility is. I have been there two weeks. I've never been in a place that has treated me any better than here. West Liberty is lucky to have this center.

I've had hip problems for over a year and it makes walking difficult. I've also experienced heart trouble and kidney trouble but these conditions are under control.

I've been fortunate to have visitors. I've had so many in the last two weeks: Irene Dunn, Elaine Finch Bartley, Gwenda Lane, Florence Lane Caudill, Nancy Bach, Jettie Back, Dana Johnson, Bro. Roy and Jane Collett, Edna Mae Lewis, Glinna Stamper, Connie Cintron, Tammy Craft, David Voight, Tina Williams, Arkie Ward Patrick, Debbie Craft, and Tracey Hatton and many more. I taught Elaine Finch Bartley at Cannel City School in first grade. Just a little tidbit, the retired teachers had a meeting, those present: Jane Collett, Mary Stewart, Oma Patrick, Nell Adkins, and Edwin Benton. Now I wish I could be with them.

I am very lucky that someone came along and wanted to continue to write about our community. Tracey Barker Hatton, wife of Daniel "Boone" Hatton, will be taking over the reins. Memory Hill and Round About will be retired and the Caney Valley News will be up and running. Tracey is the daughter of the late Kenneth Barker and Patty Barker Griffin and Cecil Griffin. She is the granddaughter of the late Walter Barker (Wardie and Walter were best friends) and Wanna Barker (a resident of Wolfe County Rehab. Center). I remember Wardie telling me that Walter could not hear very well. They went to school together and Wardie would take notes and then go over the notes with Walter later in a loud voice so he could understand. My how time flies, Wardie has been dead almost 12 years and Walter died in the boating accident along with six others--42 years ago on May 21, 1967.

Tracey is the daughter-in-law of Elmer and Eunice Hatton. All of her family resides in Caney. If people have any news, please contact Tracey Hatton at (606) 743-9921. Tracey will be writing the Caney Valley News and is very happy and feels blessed to continue in this tradition. Caney is such a wonderful community to grow up in, raise a family, to live and to die. Caney is family, it reaches out to friends and neighbors alike. It rejoices with people when good things happen and it cries with people during sad times as well. People are with you in the hilltops at the highest peak or in the valley at the lowest place, don't this remind you of our Savior Jesus Christ.

It has been a journey for me and was for Wardie also. We love all of you and thank you for letting me come in to your household whenever the articles were published in the paper. I am retiring Memory Hill in the paper, but never the memories. God bless you all.

--Hazel Craft

Your Social Security

Do you receive Social Security or Supplemental Security Income (SSI) benefits? If so, you are likely receiving a special, one-time recovery payment this month. The recovery payment is $250. More than 50 million beneficiaries will receive more than $13 billion in recovery payments in May. Let's go over the basic facts so that you understand how the payment is being made:

- The payment is automatic; no action is required on your part.
- The payment is a direct result of the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act of 2009 passed by Congress and signed by President Obama in February 2009.
- Your one-time economic recovery payment will arrive separately from your Social Security or SSI benefit; it will not be included with your monthly benefit payment.
- There are no requests to make, no applications to complete and no fees to pay.

To assist in processing the payments as efficiently as possible, please do not contract Social Security – unless you have not received your payment by June 4. More information is available at www.socialsecurity.gov and will be updated as needed.

If anyone contacts you asking for personal information or for a fee to help you get your payment, it is probably a scam. If you are unsure about the identity of someone claiming to be a Social Security employee, hang up and call 1-800-772-1213 (TTY 1-800-325-0778) to verify the call. You may report suspicious activity involving Social Security programs and operations to the Social Security Fraud Hotline website, which can be located at www.socialsecurity.gov/oig/hotline, or call 1-800-269-0271 (TTY 1-866-501-2101).

So, how do you plan to use your extra $250 this month? Visitors to Social Security's website have been telling us their plans. Here is some of what they have said:

- "My car needs to have all four tires replaced."
- "Get my kids spring and summer clothes."
- "I will take a trip to see my grandchildren."
- "Pay for a class at college."
- "Replace air conditioner."

A mother asked, "How can a God of love allow His children to suffer?"

"Do you remember," I asked, "when the doctor pulled a fishhook from your hand?"

"I do," she said, "for it hurt terribly."

"Wasn't your father there?" I asked. "He allowed it, even though he loved you."

"Are you saying," she wondered, "that because God loves me, He allows me to hurt?"

"Yes," I said. "The Bible says, 'We know that all things work together for good.' Not all things are good, but God makes all things work together for our good."

Suffering? Don't ask, "WHEN will I get out of this?" but "WHAT will I get out of this?"

Delbert Honchul observes 90th birthday with family

Memorial Day weekend is known for remembrances, but for one Murray family, it was a time to mark a special milestone. Twenty-seven members representing four generations of the Honchul family converged on Murray, Kentucky, to mark the 90th birthday of Delbert Honchul. Delbert was born on May 26, 1919, in Brushy Fork, Kentucky, in Morgan County. Among those celebrating the occasion were seven children, nine grandchildren, and three great grandchildren. "It says something about the man as a father and family patriarch when people travel from five states and Europe to help you celebrate a birthday," said Donna O'Neal, the second of Delbert's four daughters. "When we came up with the idea of surprising him for his milestone day, no one gave it a second thought." The planning for the event went unknown to Delbert. The family had been holding reunions every two years, with the last one being in 2008. As such, Delbert wasn't expecting a big gathering in 2009. The children had a different plan, however, starting the planning for the surprise party at that previous reunion. "With all of us spread far and wide, we have to plan well enough in the future to make an event like this occur," David Honchul said, the youngest of the Honchul children. "We didn't know if we'd be able to keep it a surprise for the year, but none of us wanted to let this opportunity to go by to thank the person who has given so much for us." Delbert was raised in the hills of Eastern Kentucky, graduating as the valedictorian of his high school in 1936. He joined the Civilian Conservation Corps in 1939, working on various construction projects before being drafted for World War II on May 29, 1942. Following the war, Delbert remained in the military, obtaining a bachelor's and master's degrees along the way. He also earned his commission as an officer. After assignments in 14 locations around the world, he retired from the Air Force in 1967 as a lieutenant colonel. Delbert came to Murray after his military service to take an associate professor position in the Department of Business Management at Murray State University. He taught for 20 years at the university, including off-campus locations in Paducah, Owensboro, Hopkinsville, Madisonville, and Fort Campbell. He remained in Murray following his retirement in 1987. The family celebrated by having a family portrait taken, eating dinner at a local restaurant, and then eating a "hidden word search" cake at the home of one of the daughters. The idea for the cake came from one of Delbert's hobbies--he makes word searches for the monthly Kentucky Explorer magazine. But for all the logistics and planning that took place, the children were able to keep the event a secret until time for the party. "It was a great surprise and a wonderful event," Delbert said.

Census topic at Kiwanis meet

Andy Sluss, right, was a special guest at the May 18 meeting of the West Liberty Kiwanis Club. Sluss, shown here, with Kiwanian Bill Harper, is employed by the U.S. Census Bureau. She presented a program on "What Community-Based and Social Service Organizations Need to Know About the 2010 Census. She appealed to the Kiwanians to help convey the importance of participating in the Census, which is taken every 10 years. The census determines political representation and directs the allocation of billions of dollars in government funding, based on population.

MSU summer pgm. will help freshmen brush up on skills

MOREHEAD, Ky.—To better prepare its freshmen class, Morehead State University will host the 2009 Success Academy, June 29-July 31. The Academy is a five-week program of college instruction and tutoring for students admitted to the University who are in need of additional academic preparation.

The Academy will give students who need to brush up on math, reading or English skills a head start so they are better prepared for their first semester at MSU.

"The University is committed to helping students succeed in college. To do this, we're offering students who need a little extra help getting started a good program and a good value," said Dr. Dan Connell, associate provost for academic outreach and support.

Participants will have the opportunity to enroll in two developmental courses and a special College Success course that combines study skills, career planning, and Freshman Orientation. Students who complete the academy will begin the Fall 2009 semester with nine (9) college credits completed.

High school seniors who have taken the ACT exam and scored below 18 on two or more of the mathematics, English, and reading sections (science not included) are eligible to participate.

Extensive tutoring and supplemental instruction will be provided during each class day, and near student living areas during evening hours. The College Success Class will improve study skills, emphasize career development, and orient students to the programs, people and services at MSU.

The Success Academy will be located on MSU's Morehead campus. Students will live in residence halls and abide by all university regulations. Residence assistants and tutor/peer counselors also will live in halls with students to provide academic support, programming, and administration of residence hall policies.

Guest speakers and other special activities will enhance the learning process.

Students who are eligible for financial aid, and file early for summer aid (the deadline is June 30), may be able to lower the cost significantly. Enrollment is limited to 60.

Additional information is available by calling Craig Dennis, director, at (606) 783-2310 or by visiting the Success Academy Web site at www.moreheadstate.edu/success.

Know how to call for help when boating this summer

Do I use my marine radio or wireless phone when calling for emergency help? Wireless phones may be used to call 911 during a boating emergency. A wireless phone is an excellent backup communications device. However, a wireless telephone is not a substitute for a VHF-FM marine radio.

A marine radio has several distinct advantages over a wireless phone. With the relative low cost and compact size of a marine radio, any boater on any size craft (including canoes and kayaks) should carry a radio. A marine radio is:

- Waterproof.
- Provides immediate notification of distress to any vessel listening on that channel, which means quicker assistance.
- Allows for rescue units to hone in on transmission.
- To ensure your safety and the safety of others:
- Make sure radio is on and turned to VHF Channel 16.

• Press microphone button and clearly say, "Mayday, mayday, mayday, this is..." (Give the following information: vessel name and/or description type, color, length.)

- Position and/or location.
- Nature of emergency.
- Number of people on board.
- Release microphone button briefly.

• Wait for 10 seconds. If no answer, repeat the mayday call.

• Follow directions and provide information requested by the rescue agency. If the situation permits, stand by the radio for further communication with the Coast Guard or another vessel.

HONORING OUR GRADUATES

Turner hoping to make an impact beyond football at Morgan High

By David Patrick

It's been a tough past two seasons for Morgan County football. Fact is, the last time the Cougars won a game was September 14, 2007. That's one year, eight months and 20 days for those of you scoring at home.

But hopefully, the days of the slump are numbered. Last Tuesday, the school announced the hiring of Brian Turner as head coach. Turner, who's enjoyed tremendous success as Morgan's middle school coach—including a school-record 16 wins last season—will begin his second stint at MCHS.

Turner, a Baptist minister, says his decision to return to MCHS was based on more than just football.

"For me, coaching is an extension of my ministry and a chance to make a positive impact on the young men that play for me," Turner said on Monday. "My motto is 'Character, Academics and Athletics'—in that order. My goal is for these kids to have their priorities straight."

Another priority for the new coach is winning football games. Back in 2003, Turner led Morgan to three wins in its first four games. But a 28-point loss to traditional power Russell in the Sorghum Bowl left the Cougars beaten and battered. The team never recovered and closed the season on a six-game losing skid.

"We really had a very good football team," said Turner. "I thought we were the best 3-7 team in the state. With our injuries after the Russell game, we just didn't have the depth to bounce back. Still, I think the groundwork was laid for the success that came the next two seasons."

Turner admits he learned plenty from the '03 season. And it's that experience that he hopes will pay dividends this time around. On Monday, the Cougars met for the first time with their new coach with good numbers and great attitudes.

"These kids are willing to learn and are very coachable," Turner said. "We have a good base of talent. I've got every reason to be optimistic. We're not making excuses. We want to win football games."

Note: Coming up next week, we'll take a look inside the numbers at Turner's record-setting 2008 season at Morgan County Middle School. Also a closer look at Turner's "Double-Wing" offense and the players that could make an immediate impact.

Grand Prix Table Tennis

Nickell wins 8th Pride title from Tex; Rock and Legend also win

Grand Prix Table Tennis returned to the Morgan County Community Center on May 26 with a turnout of 20 players. The league will feature a ladder format and three divisions, League Title, Pride, and Challenge. GPTT's new ladder format is used for three different singles divisions, and one doubles division. Each player's rating determines what ladder he or she will be placed in. The scale is as follows: 3800 and up; League Championship Division (includes the Pride Championship or #2 rated player); 2900-

3799 is the Challenge Division, which includes players from high intermediate to advanced; and the Cruiser division, which features players rated from 0 to 2899—these players are in the skill range from novice to high intermediate. GPTT has five Olympic quality tables and we also provide equipment. The first night is free, and there is a $2 charge for each night thereafter. At the end of a one month cycle, an ultimate ladder event will be held at a special event which will award first through third place to each of the

Hooten Hollow turkey calls prove to be key to wild turkey Grand Slam

Former Morgan Countian, Ronnie Gevedon, of Crab Orchard, accomplished what most turkey hunters only dream of during the 2009 turkey season. Mr. Gevedon completed a Turkey Grand Slam this spring, which consists of harvesting a bird from four of the six turkey species.

The species of turkeys found in the United States are Florida Osceola, found in South Florida; Merriam, found in the Rockies and North West; Rio Grande, found in the South West; the Eastern, found in Eastern United States, Goulds, found in Arizona and Mexico; and Ocellated, found in Central America.

Michael Havens, of Mize, longtime friend of Mr. Gevedon, is a man of many talents. In addition to playing bluegrass music with his band, Blue Mountain Grass, Mike is an avid turkey hunter. His interest in turkey hunting led him to the art of making turkey calls, both slate and box calls. It was with a slate call and a Hooten Hollow yellow poplar/walnut box call, both handcrafted by Havens, that Gevedon was able to successfully complete his hunt.

The past 22 years Mike has collected information from several different sources on the dos and don'ts of making turkey calls. While on a hunting trip in Pike County, Havens met a man using a box call made by the late Neal Cost, who resided in Greenwood, South Carolina. Havens closely examined the craftsmanship of Mr. Cost who was one of the most famous box call makers of all times. Following his death, the last box call Mr. Cost made was auctioned for over $11,000.

Another great influence on Mr. Havens' handiwork is Mr. Albert Paul, of Paul's Calls, of Collinsville, Mississippi. Mr. Paul, who worked under Neal Cost for many years learning the art of handcrafting box calls, graciously shared his knowledge with Mr. Havens, who learned a lot about making turkey calls by trial and error.

Havens purchased slate from Doug Adkins, of Cane Creek Turkey Calls, in Letcher County, and began experimenting with slate and glass calls. After many, many hours and a few years, Mike got the sound he was searching for. He made prototypes of box calls, slate over glass and glass over glass calls.

The next five years was spent in the woods. Mr. Havens used his calls in several different states during turkey seasons to see if the sound he created would be effective. The sounds were superb. Everywhere he hunted he harvested his limit.

In 1994, Havens harvested the second biggest bird in Pike County, and the fifth biggest in Menifee County. In 2005, Havens harvested the biggest bird he had ever taken, a 31 lb. 2 oz. turkey.

Havens began making turkey calls to sell to other hunters and turkey call collectors. Throughout the years he has received pictures, letters, and phone calls of how well the calls work. This spring, Ronnie Gevedon and his wife, Jan, gave Mike's calls the ultimate test. A letter to Havens from Mr. Gevedon follows--

Dear Mike,

Thought you might like to know where I used Hooten Hollow Calls during this Spring Turkey Season. We hunted March 21 and 22 in Florida and got a 20 lb. Osceola on March 22.

Then on to South Dakota and was caught in a blizzard on April 4 and 5. Hunted on April 6 and 7 and got a 20 lb. Merriam on April 7th.

We traveled from South Dakota to Lincoln, Kansas and got a 19 lb. Rio on April 10 and a 22.5 lb. on April 11.

Hunted in Tennessee on April 14, 15, and 16 and was able to call in four Eastern gobblers using your calls. Called those four into gun range but decided not to take the shots.

To finish my Turkey Grand Slam for spring of 2009, I got a 27 lb. Eastern turkey in Rockcastle County, Kentucky on April 25.

I attribute my 2009 Turkey Grand Slam to using the Hooten Hollow slate call and a Hooten hollow yellow poplar/walnut box call.

Ron and Jan Gevedon

(Mike would like to thank Ron and Jan Gevedon, and all turkey hunters who have purchased calls. A special thanks to Paul's Calls, and to all the private land owners who have allowed him to hunt on their property the past 20 years.)

It's your graduation day.

HAT'S OFF TO YOU GRADS!

The future looks bright. You're about to begin a new chapter in life, and the story is yours to write. Today is just the beginning, so keep up the good work and make every day count. We wish you all the best, every step of the way.

Congratulations to all our local graduates and their families.

Know how to call for help when boating this summer

Do I use my marine radio or wireless phone when calling for emergency help? Wireless phones may be used to call 911 during a boating emergency. A wireless phone is an excellent backup communications device. However, a wireless telephone is not a substitute for a VHF-FM marine radio.

A marine radio has several distinct advantages over a wireless phone. With the relative low cost and compact size of a marine radio, any boater on any size craft (including canoes and kayaks) should carry a radio. A marine radio is:

- Waterproof.
- Provides immediate notification of distress to any vessel listening on that channel, which means quicker assistance.
- Allows for rescue units to hone in on transmission.

To ensure your safety and the safety of others:

- Make sure radio is on and turned to VHF Channel 16.
- Press microphone button and clearly say, "Mayday, mayday, mayday, this is..." (Give the following information: vessel name and/or description type, color, length.)
- Position and/or location.
- Nature of emergency.
- Number of people on board.
- Release microphone button briefly.
- Wait for 10 seconds. If no answer, repeat the mayday call.
- Follow directions and provide information requested by the rescue agency. If the situation permits, stand by the radio for further communication with the Coast Guard or another vessel.

A friend, while posing for a picture, saw a sign that read, "You get what you pay for."

"What does that mean?" he asked.

"A $25 picture is a 'Justice Picture,'" said the photographer. "It's just as you are. The $50 picture is a 'Mercy Picture.'" It makes you look better."

When the proofs came back, he said, "I needed mercy."

Don't we all! We aren't so close to perfection that we can be spiritual policemen over the lives of others. Since we need mercy more than justice, let's dwell more on being merciful than on being judgmental.

The Bible says, "Blessed are the merciful, for they shall obtain mercy."
